Report of School Board.

The school year has been thirty weeks' long. Twelve different teachers have been employed. The success of the year, on the whole, has been fairly good; but the success of several of the schools must be encouraging to citizens as well as the school board. We shall endeavor to make the coming year abundantly successful in every school in the district, firmly believing that the best teachers to be had are the cheapest.

The truant officer has faithfully discharged his duties according to our directions. The unsatisfactory result was due to the directions. We were thrown into doubt as to the legality of the by-laws by a lawyer to whom we applied for assistance. We asked him to investigate, and write us an opinion. He kept us waiting over six weeks, and then pronounced them illegal. We have since had the opinion of the attorney-general, supporting their legality, and agreeing with the opinion of eminent counsel whom we had before consulted. Full particulars will be given at the school meeting.

School books are not to be loaned during vacations, but will be sold at any time for cost; also repurchased at any time while in use. There is now a considerable quantity of them too badly worn for further use in school. These will be given away. With a little repairing most of them might still be useful.

The school at East Northwood has had an average membership of 42, an average daily attendance of 38.* The question of grading this school has been discussed for several years. It is rather large for one teacher, rather small for two schools. Instruction might be provided at the seminary for the more advanced scholars of this school, as well as of the Ridge school, if conveyance were furnished those living beyond walking distance. This would have the effect of grading both schools, taking away from them about one-fourth of their scholars. This would save enlarging or dividing the school-house at East Northwood. A similar arrangement might be made with the academy in behalf of the three central schools, closing the two smaller ones and maintaining the Center school for primary and intermediate grades. Both these plans would have many advantages, if favorable terms could be made and suitable regulations adopted.

There is a feeling prevalent among our townspeople that teachers should be chosen from our own corps of teachers. This is in accordance with our views, provided that our schools do not suffer. We have large and difficult schools, and they need the very best of teachers, young men and women who enter the school-room not solely for the money there is in it, but who are in love with the work and are striving to make themselves teachers in the highest sense of the word. So we would encourage, yes, urge our town's teachers to do something to make themselves better teachers. Keep in touch with the literature and methods of the times.

The successful school must have the support of its parents. We hear so much of "I don't like this teacher," and "I don't like that!" It is conceded that children like to play better than work, and it naturally follows that they like best where they get along easiest, and the teacher they dislike may be, by far, the better one. Let the parents, then, stand behind the teacher, visit and become acquainted with him and his methods, and learn for himself whether it is a well-grounded "like" or "dislike".

The course of study submitted last year is destined to a wholesome reformation in classification. To be sure it will take some time to come into strict conformity with the course, but it can be done.

The schools are excellently equipped. All have modern furniture, the Mountain having been furnished the past summer, so that nothing now remains for the comfort of the pupils. A new encyclopedia, a Good Citizenship, for the study of civil government, beginning with the town government, also additions in supplementary reading have recently been furnished.

The usual statistics are appended.

Dated at Northwood, this second day of February, 1895.
